IRD KEEPS ROLLING IN GEORGIA WITH CDN$600,000 CONTRACT

Saskatoon, SK December 8, 2003 – International Road Dynamics Inc. (IRD) announced today that it has received a contract from Brooks - Berry - Haynie & Associates, Inc. to supply another two Automated Truck Weigh Station Systems in the State of Georgia. The contract is valued at approximately CDN $600,000.

The systems will be installed next year in Columbia County. IRD has previously supplied eleven similar systems in Georgia, and is in the process of installing three more. In addition, the company has received orders for six IRD Truck Rollover Warning Systems. IRD maintains these systems at peak efficiency through an ongoing contract for maintenance with the State.

All of the above mentioned Georgia systems utilize IRD's patented Single Load Cell Weigh-In-Motion (WIM) technology. The Automated Truck Weigh Station Systems use the Single Load Cell WIM in combination with Automatic Vehicle Identification (AVI) technology to monitor a truck's weight, credentials, height and other parameters and determine compliance with Georgia regulations. These systems are integrated with NorPass, a State-operated national commercial vehicle pre-clearance program. The Truck Rollover Warning Systems monitor a truck's weight, height and speed and provide a warning on an electronic message sign if the truck is in danger of rolling over on an upcoming curve.

Mr. Terry Bergan, President & CEO of IRD noted "We are very proud of our ongoing relationship with the Georgia Departments of Transportation and Motor Vehicle Safety. Our recent acquisition of PAT (GmbH) strengthens our ability to serve our customers worldwide where they have depended on PAT for a long time".

IRD is a highway traffic management technology company specializing in supplying products and systems to the global Intelligent Transportation Systems (ITS) industry. IRD is a North American company based in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan with sales and service offices throughout the United States and overseas.
